

Importance of Education

For every individual, the meaning of education is different. In simple words, education is an act of sharing and gaining knowledge, creating the ability to reason and judge, make out the difference between right and wrong, and training oneself mentally for having a better and matured life. Many underdeveloped countries are not paying enough attention to the essentiality of education and are suffering in terms of growth, prosperity and development. It not only leads to growth and success, in fact is like the backbone of a society on a smaller scale and of a country on a larger one.

The process cannot be ignored or avoided as it is the base of any society. The growth and prosperity of a country can be attributed to the educational quality that is been divulged to the people. People who are qualified and educated could play a vital role in improving the society that in turn could cause economical, social and political growth and advancement of the society.

Thinking on the same platform, we have initiated BNMS (Babulal Nagarmal Satnalika) foundation, which is a non profitable and non-governmental organization, having motto to provide monetary assistance and increase educational levels amongst underprivileged children so that they are not deprived of basic necessities and best of today's world. Founded in year 2011, our endeavour is to do something good for the society and thus country. You can sponsor one or more children just by paying 3600 in a year that will be used for the benefit of needy and bright kids. You can do the payment either by a demand draft, cheque or an online cash transfer.
